Situated off Thimbleby Hill, Hornastle Rise is a new development of traditionally built bungalows set in the attractive, vibrant Lincolnshire market town of Hornastle.

Historic Hornastle is famous for its antique shops. A selection of cafes, tea rooms, pubs and several restaurants cater for most culinary tastes. There are plenty of quirky independent shops and second-hand bookstores in which to search out a bargain.

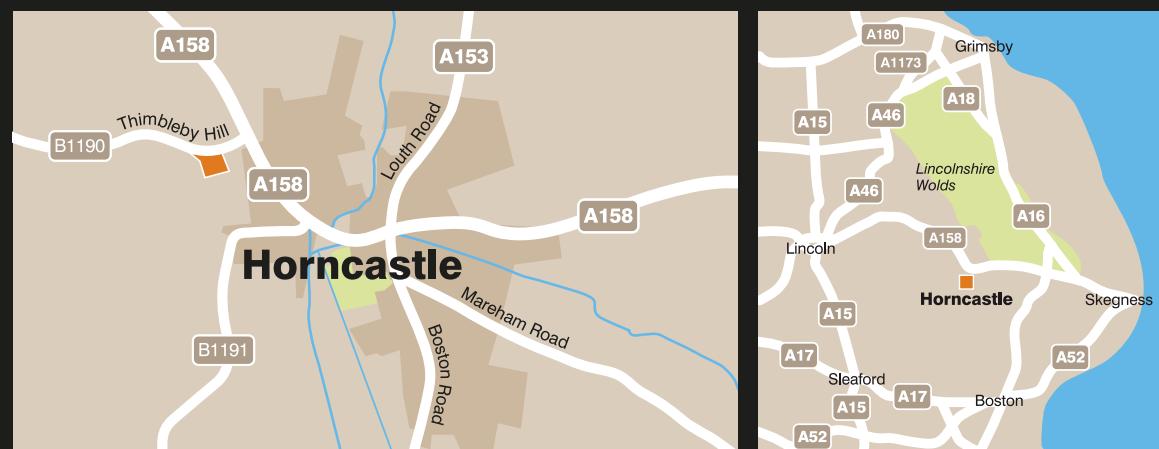

Medical facilities in Hornastle include the War Memorial Hospital, the Hornastle Medical Group and the Hornastle Dental Surgery.

The A158 runs west-east, joining the city of Lincoln and the popular seaside town of Skegness. The A153 joins Hornastle to Louth in the north and Sleaford and Grantham in the south, from where commuters can join the A1 providing easy access to the north and south of England.

The nearby village of Metheringham has a direct rail service to Peterborough on the East Coast main line which has direct trains to London and to Edinburgh.
